It's Drying Time!

Time to produce: It's Drying Time!

Before your cannabis is ready, it's important that it is dried properly in order to ensure a high quality product. If you don't dry your marijuana correctly, then your product won't store for very long and you'll end up with a useless crop. Drying marijuana doesn't need to be a difficult task.

New seedbank Nirvana

Nirvana's history goes back to the end of the 1980s, when Nirvana's founder was working at Positronics, the legendary Amsterdam grow shop. It was there that he attained the knowledge and inspiration to start his own cannabis seed business.

He spent years travelling, seeking out and collecting marijuana seeds from the finest strains available. More years went into experimenting, growing, cross-breeding and developing new cannabis strains, from which the very best were selected for Nirvana's range of first-rate hybrids.
